WORKING FOR A GOOD CAUSE

Weather Conditions Do Not Prevent Taggers From Working For Hospital Fund

Although the weather man did not lend his kind assistance to tag day for the benefit of the Portsmouth hospital, it did not dampen the ardor of those in charge of the good work. At nearly hour the young taggers were out on their job and if they keep at it as industriously as they commenced, during the entire day, a good sum will be realized before night fall. Tag day is for a good cause and our people should contribute liberally, according to their means. The following are in charge of the several districts:

1. Market street from Daniel to Noble's Island, etc.—Mrs. Charles Gray, Mrs. D. W. Adams, Mrs. E. W. Gray, Miss Alice Norton, Mrs. Charles E. Allen, Mrs. J. W. Somerville.

2. Pleasant street to Gates, Daniel to the river, etc.—Miss Hovey, Miss Cleaves.

3. Pleasant street from Gates to New Castle bridges—Mrs. Patterson, Miss Wendell, Miss Rockwell, Mrs. Lamson.

4. Congress street, Pleasant to Vaughan, etc.—Mrs. Gustave Peyser, Mrs. C. W. Bass, Mrs. E. B. Eastman, Miss Blanche Rand, Mrs. George Lord.

5. Islington street from Vaughan to Summer, to Deer, etc.—Mrs. Thomas Manogan.

6. Deer street from Market including D. & M. railroad station—Mrs. Harry Harding, Mrs. James W. Barrett.

7. State street from Pleasant to Summer, Middle from Richards avenue to Court to Pleasant, side streets to pond—Mrs. Joseph Foster.

8. West side of Middle from Summer to the Plains, side streets—Miss Ruth Jarvis, Miss Dickford, Miss Dickerson, Miss Nina Trueman, Miss Fay Trueman, Miss Gertrude Lee, Mrs. Robert Egleston.

9. East side of Middle, Richards avenue to South to Plains—Mrs. Willis N. Rugg, Miss Margaret Goodwin.

10. Christian Shore from D. & M. station, Maplewood and Woodbury avenues—Miss Ayla Varrell, Miss Jennie Akery, in D. W. Badger's auto.

11. Greenland and Newington—Mrs. E. S. Daniels, Miss Constance Bruckett.

12. Foss Beach, Straw's Point—Mrs. Henry Green.

13. North Rye Beach—Mrs. William Miskell.

14. New Castle—Hon. Calvin Page's auto, Mrs. John McDonough.

15. G. E. French's automobile to Rye and Little Bear's Head—Mrs. Seabury.

16. Wilfred Hewitt's automobile to Navy Yard—Mrs. Scudder Klyce.

17. Automobile to Elliot and Kittery Point—Miss Chire George.

GERARD IS ORDERED TO MAKE INQUIRY

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been ordered by the state department to make an inquiry into the reported seizure of the American steamers Tama and Wico by Germany. Both ships were bound from American ports to Stockholm with a cargo of petroleum. The Germans have taken the ships into Swinemunde, according to press dispatches reaching this country. Petroleum is a contraband and it is believed that German officers thought the cargoes were eventually destined for the allies.

Constitution Circle No. 294 are to hold a whist party in the near future.

RUSSIANS STILL HOLDING GERMAN FORCES AT BAY

Destruction of Bridges Over the Vistula River Has Prevented Rapid Advance of Teutonic Forces

(Special to The Herald)

Petrograd, Aug. 7.—Grand Duke Nicholas' retreating hosts are still holding the Austrian and German forces at bay in Poland despite the fall of Ivangorod and Warsaw. The destruction of the bridges over the Vistula river prevented rapid advance by the Teutons over that stream and large rear guard forces left on the east bank have thus far prevented the construction of pontoons in many numbers.

Latest advices received at the war office state that five attempts by the Germans to bridge the river with pontoons north of Ivangorod on Thursday night met with complete failure. The Russian machine guns on the east bank poured a deadly hail upon the German engineering forces engaged in the work and they finally forced an abandonment of the task.

While the Russians are being extricated from the carefully planned trap with which the Germans and Austrians hope to win a complete victory in the eastern theatre of war, the work of establishing great munition factories is proceeding rapidly throughout the interior of Russia. All Russia knows that it faces an enormous task, and only by long and arduous work will the empire be able to equip its forces for a renewal of the conflict under favorable conditions.

WOMAN AND SIX MEN RESCUED

Two Barges Which Left Here Last Wednesday at Mercy of Wind and Waves for Two Days

A woman and six men drifted two days this week in a storm off Rockport, Cape Ann, aboard two barges, lost from their tow and threatening momentarily to crash together and go down. The barges belonged to the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company and left Portsmouth harbor Wednesday morning in tow of the tug Lehigh. A heavy northeast wind accompanied by fog, blew up in the afternoon and the cable between the forward barge and the one second in line parted just before midnight. Captain Michael McUlrich of the tug did not learn of the accident until the two boats were far behind adrift, 25 miles north of Thatcher's Island.

The captain put in at Gloucester and secured the aid of the tug Wyoming to search for the lost tow. The two tugs cruised through the fog for two days, but the barges had drifted far from their course.

On Friday morning a lookout at the Rockport life saving station saw the barges drifting ashore when the fog cleared in the morning and the tugs Wyoming and Lehigh brought them to port at Gloucester.

Daniel Kenney, cook on one of the barges was seriously injured during the first day of the storm. The craft was under a small sail, and Kenney was at the wheel trying to steer clear of the other barge. A heavy swell threw the stern out of water and a wave smashed the rudder against the side. The wheel turned so quickly that Kenney was unable to loose his grip on the spokes and went over with it. His back was sprained and he received other injuries.

Mrs. Manuel Pincey, wife of the captain of the other barge, suffered from exposure. She remained on deck much of the time because of fear that the barge would sink. The wild Wednesday night tore the small sails to ribbons and both vessels were forced to depend on one 2000 pound anchor. The storm pounded the boats with such fury that this was dragged along the bottom. One of the barges carried 300 tons of ice. Its stubborn bulk constantly threatened to crash against the lighter barge and send both to the bottom.

ITALIANS ARE MASTERS OF SITUATION

Paris, Aug. 7.—A dispatch from Turin says that the Italians are now masters of the summit of Monte Michel, which dominates Gorizia, Austria, and that the fall of that city is imminent.

ENDEAVORING TO SETTLE TROLLEY STRIKE

(Special to The Herald)

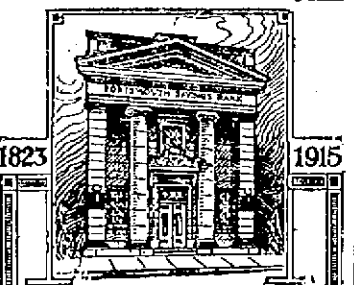

Holyoke, Mass., Aug. 7.—A conference is under way today before Commissioner Wood of the state board of arbitration between the union and officers of the company in an effort to settle the strike of the trolley employees of Holyoke, Amherst and Hadley Falls.

Practically every man including the power house employees quit work early today. The number on strike is estimated at 250. The demands are primarily a nine in eleven hour schedule, wage scale of $2.70 minimum, and maximum of $2.50 to be reached in the fourth year, and day wage instead of hour time.

Strike of 2000 employees of Remington Arms Company at Olean, N. Y., ended and work will be resumed Monday.

MUTINY IN GERMAN GARRISONS

Havre, Aug. 7.—Mutiny has broken out in German garrisons at Liege, Ghent and Bruges, says a dispatch to the Belgian government today, and many ringleaders have been shot. In some instances troops refused to obey orders when their officers tried to send them to the front.

MORE VICTIMS TO GERMAN SUBMARINES

(Special to The Herald)

London, Aug. 7.—Six English fishing boats and two neutral vessels have fallen victims to German submarines within the last twelve hours. The fishing boats were sunk this morning. The neutral ships, the Danish schooner Hansens and the Norwegian steamer Vindus, were set on fire in the North Sea last night. The crew of the fishing boats were rescued and landed a few hours after the attacks were made. The fate of the Vindus' crew is unknown.

SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN ON WAY TO FRONT

(Special to The Herald)

Petrograd, Aug. 7.—Six hundred thousand new recruits are on their way to the front to reinforce the Russian army, it was announced today. More soldiers will be dispatched daily. The announcement of the strengthening of the forces at the front says the "Russian army retains all its cohesion strength and energy."

BISHOP IRELAND TO BE CARDINAL

TIME LIMIT FOR CARRANZA

Plan of Pan-American Nations to Force Him to Join Peace Conference

Washington, Aug. 6.—The conference between Secretary Lansing and six Pan-American diplomats whose cooperation was sought by President Wilson in his plan to restore peace in Mexico was continued today. The conferees decline to discuss the proceedings on the ground that the conferees are declared informal and confidential. Whatever plan is agreed upon will be submitted to all of the Pan-American nations for approval, although it is understood they already have pledged support to concerted action.

It is considered likely that one of the first results of the conference will be a final appeal to all the Mexican factional leaders to accommodate their differences and restore peace. This probably will be sent in a few days and will be intended especially for Carranza element, which all along has declined to participate in a peace conference. The message to Carranza will ask that he lay down his arms and join with his adversaries in setting up a government the United States will recognize. It will insist that he answer within a stipulated time. The character of the final plans for restoration of peace depends largely on Carranza's response.

GOVERNOR MOSES ALEXANDER OF IDAHO WILL BE PRESENT

Boise, Idaho, August 6.—Governor Moses Alexander of Ohio, the first Jew to be elected governor of any American state, will be a conspicuous figure at the conference of Governors to be held at Epstein August 24, 25 and 27. He is to have a prominent part in the discussion of efficiency in state government. As might be expected of one of his race, he has remarkable grasp of the business side of government.

In a leading magazine, (The American for June) he tells his story in these words: "I was elected to cut down expenses, clean up graft and reduce taxation, and that's what I propose to do; but how far I'll proceed and how much I'll accomplish depends much upon the state legislators."

"For one thing I intend to cut out needless boards and commissions, reduce office force, yank out the drones and leave only the workers. I intend that here shall be no more filing of state house rooms—for fear that they may stand empty; it does not appeal to me to have such officers as bee inspectors. The people have certainly been getting enough already."

"I hope to go through the state house thoroughly, eliminate, advise, and read just department work. It amazes me that there should be such a cloying built up system of assistance to the secretary's assistant; assistants to the assistant's assistant, with the secretary constantly out on a furlough; two thirds of the assistants out for a good time; the other third loafing in the office, and only the poor weary-eyed stenographer sitting in a dark corner doing all the work. I hope to see all of Idaho's employees as workers and each one doing his good turn daily."

Governor Alexander was born in Germany and came to this country without friends or parents at the age of fourteen.

RECITAL GIVEN IN RYE TOWN HALL

PROGRAM WAS FOLLOWED BY DANCING—ENTIRE AFFAIR WAS A SUCCESS

At Rye Town Hall a recital was given last evening and was enjoyed by a large attendance. The program was one of much variety and each of the numbers was well rendered and appreciated.

The program consisted of vocal solos, reading, piano solos and duets, and a fine exhibition of fancy dancing. Among those taking part in the successful recital were Tom Cotton and Miss Katherine Rider, vocal soloists; Miss Hortense Parker, fancy dancing; and Miss Sargent, reader. The accompaniments for the solos were ably played by the Misses May and Alina Cotton, who also pleased the audience with two well executed piano duets.

Following the recital program, general dancing was enjoyed by the guests until a late hour, music being furnished by the Ocean Wave House orchestra. The affair was an entire success.

BRAZIL DIVIDED OVER MEXICO

LARGE SECTION OF THE PRESS STRONGLY OPPOSED TO ANY COERCION OF MEXICAN FACTIONS

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 6.—The convocation of a conference respecting Mexican affairs has aroused much interest here. Official circles observe a purely expectant attitude. Their conviction is that the fact in itself, the consulting of other American republics, proves that the United States is contemplating no solution such as would impair in the least Mexican sovereignty. It is pointed out in authoritative circles that public opinion in Brazil would not approve of a curtailment of Mexican rights, nor would the Brazilian government become a party to it. The newspapers are following the subject very closely. A certain opposition is manifested by some of them. The Jornal do Brazil using as a text an utterance attributed to the jurist Saviana says that intervention in Mexico would be a crime against its sovereignty. It adds that to accept this doctrine is to proclaim the right to police weak nations. Deputy Mauricio Lacerda writes in the Imparcial that Brazil should refuse its co-operation.

However, as an offset against these extreme views the Gazeta de Noticias, which is more moderate and reflects better the opinion of competent circles, says that the motives prompting the happy initiative of the United States are as honorable as could be wished. It adds:

"We can confidently await the solution which either will be void or wholly in accordance with these motives. It is certain, however, that in no case will Brazil assent to any infringement, however slight, of the integrity of any American nation. An interpolation relating to intervention in Mexico has been submitted to the Chamber of Deputies."

HAMPTON BEACH COTTAGE AFIRE

Shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in the unoccupied cottage owned by George Munson of Main street, Haverhill, and located on C street, Hampton Beach, near the C street garage.

The fire was discovered by Frank Callahan from the Atlantic Cafe, who gave the alarm. A small band of firefighters gathered from the few people about the beach at the time. They rushed to the house, and burst in the doors. The kitchen was in flames. Pails and hand extinguishers were used to good effect, but the fire had gained much headway that it was thought wise to call out the beach department.

The bell used for the sounding of the alarm was rung, and Chief Engineer King responded with the apparatus.

Several lines of hose were laid, but the volunteer band had the fire practically under control before the arrival of the department. The cause of the fire is unknown. Chief King immediately began an investigation into the cause, but up to a late hour had not reached a decision.

The entire beach colony was aroused by the ringing of the bell and hundreds rushed to the scene.

Hot Weather Fatigue

not caused by the heat. With the digestion good and the body functioning properly, hot weather seldom bothers.

Grape-Nuts

is an ideal hot weather food. It's a body-builder—delicious, highly nourishing and easily digestible.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS
President American Society for Thrift

An immense amount of land is allowed to go to waste every year because the farmers do not deem it necessary to use it for crops, or because they allow it to deteriorate for lack of proper fertilization.

The abandoned farms of New England, deserted by a generation of farmers that migrated to western lands, have been made fertile and productive by Canadian and European immigrants, whose ancestors have filled the soil intensively for centuries and know how to make it yield crops.

Of the 878,798,325 acres of farmland in the United States, but 478,451,750 acres are now improved. These farms average 138 acres, with 54 acres improved and 45 acres unimproved.

That there is a national awakening to the great waste in land and forests is evident, however. Recently at the Banker-Farmer conference held in Chicago it was demonstrated that fabulous profits have resulted from the rehabilitation of abandoned and worn-out farms.

A woman, Mrs. C. H. Mathias of Montgomery, Ala., who was employed by the Alabama Bankers' association as a traveling lecturer to explain to the farmers how they can improve their crops was the genius who worked the transformation in values. She is a geologist and soil chemist, and knows before beginning what the soil lacks. Five times Mrs. Mathias has bought worn-out farms, some of them enormous plantations, paying usually not more than $3 per acre. Then, by proper fertilization, rotation of crops, raising of live stock, she has transformed them into fertile acres and has sold them from ten to thirty times the amount invested.

We are just beginning to know that we have much to learn from the Europeans in the husbanding of resources. We are learning our lessons from the stories of the war that is now devastating Europe. Day after day the press reports impart the knowledge of the value of thrift when early instilled. Our correspondents marvel at the remarkable evidences of this inborn virtue.

If the peoples of these countries are schooled in thrift, lacking as many of them do the advantages of education, how much easier it would be for our people to lead the world in the ways of thrift, having all the advantages of the experience of our old world peoples, and of scientific education and training at our command.

Another laudable step toward the reduction of the national land waste is the movement to use the convicts to build roads so that arable lands may be opened for settlement. Many of the Western States now have laws permitting them to use this labor. California is the latest state to pass such a law and expects to place 1,500 convicts in road making through the mountains where there are 7,500,000 acres of arable land on the eastern plateau of the Sierras that can be opened for settlement next year.

PRESIDENT PLANS FOR DEFENCE CONFERENCES

Washington, Aug. 6.—With the object of developing a broad and convincing programme of national defenses which will meet with the approval of Congress, President Wilson is planning to co-operate with the chairman of the Military and Naval Affairs Committee of the Senate and House as well as with Secretaries Garrison and Daniels of the War and Navy Departments before finally deciding on the recommendations he will make in his next message to Congress. The president told friends at Cornish last night that while he had made no definite plans for consulting with the chairman of the committees interested in the question of national defense he would arrange to see them before Congress convenes in order to unite on a single programme of action.

When the president sees the chairman of the four committees he expects to have before him the reports now being prepared by Mr. Garrison and Mr. Daniels. The heads of the War and Navy Departments are expected to take part in the conference or series of conferences in order to explain personally their recommendations. The president already has written to Chairman Taggart of the House Naval Affairs Committee inviting him to meet him on Mr. Wilson's return to Washington. While he did not say tonight whether he had written similar letters to the chairmen of the other committees, it was reported that he had done so.

The president believes the time has come for the United States to decide on a definite programme of national defense and is anxious that as little friction as possible develop over the question, when it is presented to the two Houses of Congress. He will not decide in his own mind on the kind of programme required until he has thoroughly examined the reports of Mr. Garrison and Mr. Daniels, and has received the views of Congressional leaders. The plan of the president is to carefully consider a programme of national defense after free consultation with others and then to throw the entire weight of the administration behind the policy agreed on. As already indicated, the part of his next message devoted to national defense is expected to be the most important of the entire document. Much thought already has been given by the president to the subject since his arrival here, but he will give no indication of his ideas until he obtains more information. He is opposed to a policy of "militarism," but thinks the United States should be adequately defended. The reports of Secretaries Garrison and Daniels are expected to be ready next week and will be submitted to the president by them personally after his return to Washington.

CHINA WANTS SUBMARINES

China has decided to build a submarine navy. On July 19 eighteen Chinese entered the country under the "student" clause of the anti-Chinese immigration laws. All eighteen were Chinese naval officers, a fact well known to the American authorities. At the head of the party was Admiral Wei Han, chief naval constructor of the Chinese navy, who is a graduate of the Naval Academy of France. All eighteen are now at New London, Conn., where they will remain for ten months in the shipbuilding establishment at that port which constructs submarines. As this plant builds underwater craft for the United States government, and under the terms of its contract, has to observe a certain degree of secrecy in regard to design and construction, China, through the department of state, had to obtain permission from the navy department to place her officers there.

LOST BARGES OFF BOONE ISLAND

The captain of the sea-going tug Lehigh, of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, put into Gloucester, Mass., harbor early yesterday and reported the loss of three barges off Boone Island in the afternoon, one laden with ice and two light. It is stated that the light barges came in collision with the large laden with ice, badly damaging the latter.

The Lehigh went out later in search of the barges.

POLICE NEWS

William Martin, 40, of York, Maine, was arrested last night in a house on Jefferson street by Officers McCaffery and Philbrick. He was lodged at the station charged with breaking, entering and larceny, which he is alleged to have committed at York one day during the early part of the week.

There were five drunks and one lodger on the blotter at midnight. Henry Chin, who owns and operates the Chinese restaurant on Daniel street, was obliged to ask the department for aid last night as some of his guests had an insane desire to destroy the table utensils and had refused to pay their bills. Three officers responded to the call, but their services were not needed as the guests decided to settle up and quit before the officers could arrive at the feed house.

BELGIAN SOLDIERS ARE LIKE CHILDREN AND EASILY AMUSED

Paris, August 6.—Nothing strikes one so much when living among Belgian soldiers as the accuracy of the phrase which invariably recurs in every conversation about them—"They are like children." They are indeed like children. I have never seen grown men in masses so easily amused. This is perhaps fortunate for they have little to amuse them in the fragment which remains in their country. They consist of course largely of simple-minded peasants, innocent of any but the most rudimentary book learning and of the imagination which book learning develops. When here and there along the coast they ladle, they play in the water like boys of eleven and 12, splashing one another and dancing round and round in rings. I have seen hundreds of them roaring with laughter for an hour at the antics of one, who stripped to the waist on the top of a tramcar, pretended to swallow empty sardine tins.

They love football, but they have not enough footballs. They are fond of music, though if they have an ear they must often long to kill some of their buglers—but they seem to be very short of their national domestic instrument, the accordion. One who used to play in Piccadilly restaurants, takes his violin with him to the trenches, but for the most part there is a great lack which I venture to suggest might well do Belgians in England might easily fill of the means of making a cheerful and harmonious noise.

Their child-like nature comes out very forcibly among the wounded. In one ambulance I found the most popular toy to be one of those dolls, with a musical box under his skirts which one twists round on the end of a stick. Similarly, among those just beginning to walk again, there was great competition for a child's musical wheeler, having played as one trundled it. I need hardly say that this "ambulance" was started, and is conducted by a lady. She understands children, as well as pathetic, in the case of a hospital patient who was suffering chiefly from cerebral excitement over the loss of his dog—a delightful dog which street was injured yesterday morning, receiving several cuts and having his shoulder dislocated. He fell from the second story window of a house on Richards avenue. He landed on his shoulder, falling from a height of almost twenty-five feet. He was removed to the hospital, and the shoulder was put back into place.

SOME BEACH BUSINESS MEN DISCOURAGED BY LOSSES OF THE SUMMER

Recipes for Canning Raspberries.

Fill jars with raspberries after weighing. Prepare a syrup by using three-quarters of a pound of sugar to each pound of raspberries. After ascertaining the number of pounds of sugar measured out, add to each pound one cup of water. Put this amount of sugar and water together into a saucepan and boil 15 minutes, then remove from stove and fill the jars of raspberries to overflowing with the syrup. Let them stand still for 15 minutes. Then if necessary add more berries. Place covers on jars, set in a pan of cold water on stove and bring to boiling point. Don't allow it to boil, but keep hot for one hour, after which they will be done.

MAY CLOSE UP FOR THE SEASON

SOME BEACH BUSINESS MEN DISCOURAGED BY LOSSES OF THE SUMMER

The storm-hit beaches along the coast have sustained not only a serious loss in business but there has been considerable property damage. The effect on business, which has been the worst in years, has driven many business men to consider closing up for the remainder of the season. The cost of maintaining the overhead expense at some of the hotels is so great that the proprietors see no chance of making up the losses.

SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD BUY COTTON

Purchase of two million bales of cotton by the United States government for the manufacture of explosives is suggested to President Wilson by John L. McLaurin, formerly U. S. Senator from South Carolina and now state warehouse commissioner, in a letter, made public at Charleston last night. Mr. McLaurin says that the purchase would be a good investment for the government in view of plans for strengthening the nation's defenses and that at the same time it would stabilize the cotton market.

A Laudable Undertaking.

The people of Georgia and some of the other southern states as well, particularly North Carolina are interesting themselves in a project which is not only highly praiseworthy on general principles but particularly so under conditions that have been brought about by the foreign war. This is to colonize Belgian farmers on southern lands and assist them in getting a foothold as cultivators of the soil.

The movement is not entirely new, it having been begun some time ago, and the results of the experiment thus far have been such as to warrant further effort along this line. The Belgians are good farmers and those who have located in the South have proved that with a reasonable start they soon place themselves in a position to make their way in the world without assistance from any quarter.

The plan is to set aside lands for these Belgian farmers and build houses for them, provide them with other things necessary for a start and encourage them to engage in intensive farming. That is what most of them have been used to at home, for land is land in the Old World and is worked to the hilt. The people there know nothing about abandoning worn-out farms and moving on to virgin soil.

At an immigration conference held in Georgia recently the principal question was that of methods of inducing Belgian farmers to come to this country and locate in that state, where plenty of land awaits them, some of it never having been under cultivation. The people of the state are prepared to finance the whole scheme, even to the transportation of the immigrants, who will be given a chance to pay for the lands and establish homes of their own which will never be devastated by war.

Few will read of this movement without wishing it success. This country needs farmers more than any other class of immigrants, and nothing makes a good American citizen of an immigrant sooner or more surely than his attachment to the soil. A man who has served many years in Congress said recently in discussing the immigration problem that the country has no need to worry about foreigners from any part of the world who settle on the land. "The ownership of a piece of land," he said, "gives them a tangible stake in the country, and they are ready to stand for it through thick and thin."

The efforts of southern people to colonize Belgians will be watched with interest, for the South is not the only part of the country where such projects are feasible, nor are Belgians the only foreigners who would be desirable as tillers of American soil.

Wrong Kind of Advertising.

In view of the agitation against the billboard in recent years, an agitation that shows a decided improvement in the public taste, it is surprising news that comes from one of the most beautiful small cities in New England whose board of trade has just erected a mammoth billboard to advertise the city. It stands on railroad land, where it can be seen by all travelers passing through the city on trains, and is so large and high that it can be seen from many parts of the city. It is brilliantly lighted at night, consequently there is no part of the 24 hours that it is not one of the most conspicuous things in the town that it ornaments or disfigures according to the point of view.

To the credit of many people of the city it is to be said there was strenuous objection to the erection of this gigantic billboard, but the board of trade, with business and advertising alone in view, overrode all objections and up went the biggest monstrosity of its kind to be found in any city in the country. Offending by day and glaring by night, it detracts grievously from the beauty and attractiveness of the city, proclaiming it a community that places the dollar above the man and every other consideration that should have weight in a self-respecting municipality.

That the billboard in certain places has certain uses is not to be denied in these days of business push and the greatest possible publicity, but that any community can better its condition or prospects by billboard advertising is very much to be doubted. Notwithstanding the absorption of the age in matters practical, there is still a sentiment which revolts at the idea that there is nothing left but business and that every thing else must be sacrificed for its promotion.

For this reason it is safe to assume that the board of trade which has erected this flaming eyesore in a town that has long been noted for the beauty of its location, streets, residences and public buildings has set an example that will not be generally followed. It will be a wonder if this brand of advertising does not cost the city and its business men much more than it comes to, and when the news comes that the monstrosity has been demolished it will be far less surprising than that which announces its erection.

CURRENT OPINION

English Humor Is More Dignified Than the Wit of Americans

The English humor is, I think, the best in the world. Now, I'm in no sense of the word an Anglophile. I am not saying that humor is better than wit or wit better than humor. But, as I said, I think that the English are humorous and the Americans witty.

American humor is finer than English humor, but it is often in bad taste. English humor is broader, and it seldom is in bad taste.

It is a matter of national character. There is the same difference between English and American social life, business methods and everything else. We are quick, deft, nervous, energetic; therefore our sense of fun finds its expression in the nimble exercise of wit. The English take everything much more seriously; therefore their sense of fun finds expression in the more serious and dignified exercise of humor.

Humor can be and generally is dignified. Wit seldom is dignified. Only serious people can be really humorous, and Americans are not serious.—By Carolyn Wells, Author.

SOLDIERS BEING TRAINED IN BOMB THROWING

British Headquarters, France, Aug. 5.—It was at a bombing school on a French farm where chosen soldiers brought back from the trenches were being trained in the use of the anarchist's weapon which has now become as respectable as the rifle. Specialists in the war goes on. There are no M. B. Degrees for master bombers yet; but that may come any day.

A young Scotchman was the chief instructor. He had blue eyes, a pleasant smile and was about twenty years old, though he did not look it. On his breast was the purple and white ribbon of the new order of the Military Cross which you get for doing something in this war which would have won you a Victoria Cross in one of the little wars.

Also present was the assistant instructor, a sergeant of regulars—who had three ribbons which he had won in previous campaigns. He too had blue eyes—bright blue eyes. These understood each other.

"If you don't drop it, why it's all right," said the sergeant.

We did not drop it.

"And when you throw it you must look out and not hit the man behind and knock the bomb out of your hand. That has happened before now to an absent minded fellow who was about to toss one at the Boches—and it does not do to be absent minded when you throw bombs."

"They say that you sometimes pick up the German bombs and chuck them back before they explode," it was suggested.

"Yes sir, I've read things like that in some of the accounts of the reports who write from somewhere in France. You don't happen to know where that is sir? All I can say is that if you are going to do it you must be quick about it. I shouldn't advise delaying your decision, sir, or perhaps when you reach down to pick it up neither your hand or the bomb would be there. They'd have gone of together."

"Have you ever been hurt in your handling of bombs?" one asked. Surprised in the bland, blue eyes.

"Oh, no sir! Bombs are well behaved if you treat them right. It's all in being thoughtful and considerate of them!"

Meanwhile he was jerking at some kind of a patent fuse set in a shell of high explosive.

"This is a poor kind," he said. "It's been discarded, but I thought that you might like to see it. Never did like it. Always making trouble."

More distance between the audience and the performer.

"Now I've got it sir—got down, sir!"

The audience carried out instructions in the letter an army regulation require. We got behind the protection of one of the practice trench traverses. He threw the discard beyond another wall of earth. There was a sharp report, a burst of smoke and some fragments of earth were tossed into the air.

In a small affair of two hundred yards of trench the other day it was estimated that the British and Germans together threw about five thousand bombs in that fashion. It was enough to sadden any minister of munitions. However, the British kept the trench.

"Do you men like to become bombers?" we asked the man.

"I should say so. It puts the men up in front. It gives them a chance to throw something—and they don't get much cricket in France, you see. We had a pupil here last week who broke the throwing record for distance. He was pleased as Punch with himself. A bombing detachment has a lot of pride of corps."

To bomb has become as common a verb with the army as to bayonet. "We bombed them out!" means a section of trench taken. As you know a trench zig zag traverses. In following the course of a trench it is as if you followed the sides of the squares of a checker board up and down and across on the same tier of squares. The square itself is a bank of earth with the cut on either side and in front of it. When a bombing party bombs their way into the possession of a section of German trench there are Germans under cover of the traverses on either side of them. The German is waiting around the corner to shoot the first British head that shows itself.

SHOULD ACT AS A UNIT

A presidential campaign draws near, and if New England is to be influential therein, its Republicans should be a unit in support of Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts. This support should be the Republicans of New Hampshire be pleasing and spontaneous. Senator Weeks was born in this state, has his summer home here, and is a member of the New Hampshire Society of the Cincinnati. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy, he has won large success in business life, but has ever been solicitous for the welfare of the navy and for the naval militia. That of Massachusetts he has placed on the highest plan of efficiency. Elected by continuous re-elections until his resignation to become a member of the Senate in March, 1913. In both houses he has been influential. For the inestimably helpful postal savings banks a very large share of credit is due him as for legislation in promotion of machinery reforms, good roads forest reserves, bird protection and much else. His candidacy for the presidency is already widespread, is gathering strength and should have united and determined support throughout this section.—Exeter News-Letter.

A RACE OF ATHLETES

Surely we are becoming an athletic people. Look at the tennis courts, the golf links, the ball grounds on every side and consider how few there were ten years ago. It is a healthy sign of the times. It means greater things ahead—with stronger men and women to do the world's work. These sports have, of course, developed specialized needs in dress and equipment, but they are needs easily supplied. A glance through the advertising columns of this newspaper will nine times out of ten answer the questions of the athletic man or woman.

LITTLE KNOWN OF GOVERNOR'S CONFERENCE

Believed at Concord That a Special Session Will Not Be Called Until After Sept. 1.

It was said at the state house on Friday after the conference on the Boston and Maine reorganization bill today that one man's guess was as good as another's as to whether a special legislative session would be called. It was further asserted that Governor Spaulding himself does not know whether he will issue a call for an extra session. He did say however, that he didn't believe any action would be taken to summon the legislators before September 1.

Those at the conference which lasted three hours, were Public Service Commissioner Edward G. Niles, Gen. Edwin G. Eastman of Exeter, representing the Boston and Maine; Allen Hollis of Concord, as a representative of the Boston and Lowell road, and George P. Morris of Lancaster for the directors of the Concord and Montreal road.

Before and after the conference it was said by the conferees that they were meeting to go over the new bill with the governor and after getting his views, the measure would be revised, if necessary, for presentation to the boards of directors of leased lines. When ratified officials will formally submit the measure to Governor Spaulding and request him to call an extra session.

Either the examination took much longer than we anticipated or objections were raised by the governor that made necessary a return trip to the headquarters at Boston of the framers of the bill, for when the conference ended at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Governor Spaulding said he would meet railroad representatives for further consideration of the document at a time and place to be determined later. Both the governor and representatives of the railroad declined to give out the gist of the bill, and pressed for the reason why the exact terms of such an important measure are not disclosed, said it was "probably because it is so important."

Little doubt exists as to the substance of the bill, which is reported to follow closely the lines of the law passed in Massachusetts providing for an assessment of stock and authority assumption of the Hampden debt. A stumbling block for both Governor Spaulding's advisers and the railroad attorneys lies in the fact that legislative leaders who accomplished the defeat of the reorganization bill at the recent session of the general court have given no sign of a change of heart and are apparently making no comment. This continued silence, notwithstanding the governor's several requests in published interviews at various absolutely nothing to anxious seekers for possible changes in the lineup of the solemn as they stood when the merger was defeated at the state house last spring.

CONDITIONS SERIOUS ON MEXICAN BORDER

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Serious conditions prevail along the border as the result of the killing of two Americans by Mexican raiders on Friday near Sebastian, Texas. General Funston reported to the war department today. The American commander wired that he is having the entire section patrolled and has heavy guards established at all railway bridges. The commander actively in charge in that region has been instructed to call for more troops at the least sign of trouble.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT PRESENTED AT GREEN ACRE

David Stone Wheeler, Director of Scouting Courses in East Greenwich Academy, R. I., Tells of Aims and Work of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Green Acre Conferences during the past week have been of unusual interest to those interested in educational work of the higher type. David Stone Wheeler, the principle speaker of the week, has been interested directly and indirectly in the schools of New England for the past fifteen years. He is a man of broad vision and sees in the future the possibility of training the boy and girl in the art of living from his earliest childhood. For that reason he is vitally interested in the Boy Scout movement, as he feels that by the active co-operation of this out-of-door movement with the school courses that the boy can be trained to consider true education—a life long process. That in reality true education comes from doing each day's work well.

Mr. Wheeler gave statistics showing that only one boy out of each sixteen is able to be a Scout, although many more would like to take it up. It is therefore very important that more men and women become trained as Scout Masters and Guardians. Scouting brings out the benefits of the old method of having a master surrounded by a few disciples, or pupils. He, giving of his life and thought to the younger generation, and they carrying into fruition the ideals of the master. It is not a military organization in any sense of the word, but it does recognize the natural tendencies of the boys. Takes them just where they are and trains them to turn these impulses into higher channels. It is necessary that each boy show forth certain qualities such as trustworthiness, loyalty, helpfulness, friendliness, courteousness, kindness, obedience, cheerfulness, thrift, bravery, cleanliness, and reverence. This is laying a deep foundation for his whole life, and as each boy is put on his honor and wins credits by acquiring these virtues he is anxious to show that he can do it.

Mr. Wheeler pointed out clearly that Scouting is not merely an out-door camp life, but it carries its activities into every branch of life, into the office and store and profession, in the form of vocational scouting. Columbia University, New York city, has installed a course in "scouting," and the Academy at East Greenwich is the first secondary school in the country that has introduced courses in scouting on an equal footing with the academic subjects and to count toward points for graduation.

Mr. Wheeler emphasized the fact that in the Scout law there is not a single "don't." Instead is the motto "Be Prepared." "Do some good turn each day." Everything is constructive. He also showed clearly the "relativity" displayed in the movement. The younger scouts earn their degrees, they are assisted to climb to the higher places, but are not forced promiscuously into situations where they are overtaxed, thus each task which they are assigned they are perfectly able to accomplish well, then they are promoted.

He feels that the greatest need at this particular time is more scout masters. Men who are trained and who are adaptable. Who are willing to sacrifice some of their life in order that the coming generation may be trained in the ways of peace and brotherhood. For this army of the Boy Scouts is following fast on the trail of the armies of men on the battlefield. And, they being trained in the ways of peace and brotherhood will be prepared to show to the world that in reality "All are the leaves of one tree, the drops of one sea."

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Stanwood Cold gave readings from Walt Whitman and spoke of his place in American literature. Mr. William H. Randall spoke on the "Four Paths of Love," giving a deep and mystical address which was enjoyed by all. He used as the basis of his talk "The Seven Valleys" of Bahá'ullah. This was followed by a basket picnic, held in the "Eirennan," the weather having prevented its being held on the Fellowship property.

Wednesday's reception was well attended, and the program was a delightful one. Miss Margaret Klebs of North, Augusta, S. C., sang, Miss Marion Jack of Montreal, Canada, gave several piano selections, Miss Edna McKelney of Boston recited, and Mr. Murdoch of Boston gave a number of songs and readings from the Scotch, giving a delightful impersonation of Harry Lauder.

This Saturday evening there will be a masquerade dance at the "Eirennan." Alfred E. Hunt, Boston, will speak Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, giving the same address which he delivered at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, in May, 1916, entitled, "The Bahá' Movement in Relation to Economic and Social Problems."

The annual meeting of the Green Acre Fellowship will be held on Monday, Aug. 9, at the Eirennan at 10 a. m. The principle speaker for the coming week will be Mrs. Florence Kressler Griswold, a well known social worker in New York city.

Among the late arrivals at the Green

Acre Inn are Miss Grey of Urbana, Ill., and Miss M. A. Foote of New York.

CAPTURE OF HAITIEN GUNBOAT

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Aug. 7.—Admiral Caperton reported to the state department today the capture of the Haitien gunboat Taciflu at Port au Prince. His report contained no reference to the fight for the possession of the custom house there which press dispatches stated resulted in the killing of a Haitien by the American forces.

His report states that when the gunboat entered the harbor at Port au Prince on Friday he sent an officer aboard to instruct the commander to draw up alongside the wharf. When this was done he placed a crew of Americans on board as guard. The majority of Haitiens he said want peace. The chief trouble lies in the 1500 bands who are mercenary and will sell out to the highest bidder.

100 SAILORS ORDERED TO U.S.S. TENNESSEE

Cruiser Will Leave for Haiti, Instead of Coming to This Yard.

Orders were received at the Portsmouth navy yard late Friday afternoon by Commander J. V. Klemann, acting commandant of the yard directing that transfers of one hundred members of the crew of the U. S. S. Tennessee to the U. S. S. Tennessee, now at New York. It was a rush order and the men were at once picked from the crew and left this city on the Flying Yankee.

The Tennessee is to sail on Monday or Tuesday for Haiti and will carry an additional force of 800 marines from Philadelphia in charge of Col. L. W. Walter.

The men from the North Carolina are to take the places of men whose terms of enlistment have expired on the Tennessee. She had been ordered to this yard for four months' docking and repairing after her long tour of duty in the Mediterranean during the European War. The Tennessee is under the command of Captain Denton S. Decker, and is one of the fastest cruisers in the service.

Many of the men from the North Carolina were disappointed because of the orders shipping them away, as they have only completed a long sea tour, also in European waters. Many of them were slated for furloughs and had planned trips to their homes.

The detachment arrived in Boston at 8:50 p. m. in two special cars attached to the Portland Express, and they left Boston in two special cars attached to the "Midnight" for New York over the New Haven R. R.

A new revolutionary disturbance at Connaught, on the western coast of Haiti, has been reported to Rear Admiral Caperton, and he has despatched the naval tug Osselin with forces to protect the customs house.

The admiral today reported the occupation of Port National, in Port au Prince, by American forces without resistance. The American marines are quartered in the barracks. Col. Cole, commanding the marines landed from the battleship Connecticut, is in military charge of the town and Capt. Beach has been assigned to handle civil affairs.

A session of Haitian parliament to select a president has been called for Sunday.

DAILY SPORT LETTER

New York, Aug. 5.—Some of the big league clubs who are in a hitting slump might imitate the experiment made with wonderful results a few years ago by a minor league manager.

Alexander Pearson is the manager under discussion. He was handling the Undertown, Pa., aggregation and the team was doing everything but winning ball games. Pearson shifted his batting order a half dozen times in the hope that the change would lift the team out of a batting slump. But to avail.

Whereupon, Pearson put the names of all his players on a slip of paper and deposited them in a hat. Then he withdrew them for batting position, the first name withdrawn to be the lead off batsman, the second name to bat second and so on. The club, with its jugged lineup, won the game that day and followed it with seventeen more victories, all in a row.

Isn't Frank Baker exerting himself or have they some real pitchers in that Delaware County League, where the "Home Run King" is rustling at present? That's a big question—and a vital one.

Baker during his long career with the Athletics faced some of the best pitching in the world—faced it and beat it to a frazzle. He showed no weakness. He was able to hit practically every kind of ball that was served up to him. Year after year he slugged for above the 300 mark.

And now, this same Baker, playing in this lushiest of lush leagues is hitting for an average around .235.

What do you make of it, Sherlock?

Here, in brief, is the history of the Federal League case:

Jan. 1, 1914—Indicted by the Original Baseball grand jury on the charge of attempting to murder the nice little monopoly that was controlled by the National Commission.

March 1, 1914—Tried and found guilty by Judge Johnson, John Tener, Garry Herrmann and the rest of the jury.

April 13, 1914—Sentenced to die on July 4th by Judge and Jurymen Ben Johnson.

July 4, 1914—Granted a stay of execution until Labor Day.

Labor Day, 1914—Granted another stay.

Oct. 5, 1914—Federal League claims trial was unjust and appeals for new trial at hands of General Public.

April 10, 1915—New trial granted.

May 1, 1915—Again found guilty by Organized Baseball Jury, and sentenced to death July 4, 1915.

July 4, 1915—Application for pardon.

Aug. 5, 1915—Application being considered.

One fan is of the opinion that "The Matter with Baseball" is that the dear old public has been baseballed to death. He thinks that because baseball has become an every day occurrence, and that it doesn't furnish the lure that it did before baseball became a part of nearly every sport lover's daily diet.

"Baseball," says the fan, "should be more on the circus order. Instead of playing games every day only about three games—should be staged each week. That would give the fans a chance to catch up with themselves. The club owners should advertise the games extensively—on billboards. They should pass out handbills and in this way, whenever a game is played it would be a sort of fête day for the town in which it is staged."

Undoubtedly, a large flock of magnates will view this opinion with horror. The idea of playing only three games a week when the law permits from six to fourteen. And advertising via the billboard and handbill route! Ye gods and pickled devil fish! Doesn't the fan know that such a procedure would cost the owners money?

REUNION OF THE UNION LIGHT GUARD

Those Who Guarded President Lincoln to Meet Again in Washington.

Washington, D. C., August 7.—A reunion of the Union Light Guard which was the bodyguard of President Lincoln for two years during the Civil War, is planned in Washington, during the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, September 27-October 2.

While conversing with Secretary of War Stanton in 1863 the governor of Ohio offered to obtain a body guard for President Lincoln. Secretary Stanton accepted the offer. The government therefore asked for a picked man from each county in Ohio, but did not say what the service was to be.

Each man thought he was going to the front or to lead a "forlorn hope," and he gave his life when he enlisted and it was accepted as a sacrifice to his country. When the soldiers arrived in Washington they were informed that they were to be the bodyguard of the President, and they served as such until after the war closed.

They were quartered upon the old site south of the treasury, and some of them were on guard every hour, two hours being the limit for each day and night, winter and summer. There were 108 men in the company and nearly every county was represented; a few being slow in responding, the deficiency was made up from other counties. They were mustered in at Columbus, Ohio, December 17, 1863, and their enlistment was for three years of the war.

The mustering officer was Captain Elmer Otis, 4th U. S. Cavalry. They left for Washington on December 22, 1863, and reported to the secretary of war, learning for the first time their mission.

The soldiers were not all kept about the White House, but were at times in Virginia below Alexandria, and along the river to a point opposite Georgetown, scattered about Washington and forts surrounding the city, but always a goodly number was kept on duty about the White House.

After being mustered out of service the members scattered and it has been difficult to trace them, but at the encampment of the G. A. R. in Toledo in 1908 nine gathered and effected an organization with Lieut. George C. Ashmun as president and Robert W. McBride as secretary.

It was decided that a more thorough search would be made to locate the missing members, so that they might have the privilege of teaching elbows again in a peaceful organization. Last year there was a meeting of the survivors in Detroit, Mich and another meeting will be called in September during the G. A. R. Encampment here.

KITTERY POINT

Items of Interest from the Harbor Town.

Rev. E. M. Cummings will preach at the First Congregational church at 11 o'clock on Sunday. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour 12:15 o'clock. Miss Julia H. Duncan, superintendent.

The meeting of the ladies who sew for the Red Cross work will be held at the Community House on Tuesday afternoon instead of Wednesday, next week.

On Wednesday afternoon and evening a sale and entertainment will be held on the Community House grounds under the auspices of the ladies of the Congregational church.

There was a large attendance of summer people from York Harbor, Ogunquit, Portsmouth, the navy yard, and from the local hotels, together with townspeople who gathered at the First Congregational church on Friday afternoon to hear the lecture by Mrs. John Colby Abbott on the costumes and customs of the French in the 16th century. The lecture was very interesting indeed and was made more so by the use of the life sized doll model used by Mrs. Abbott on which she placed the costumes of the various periods. The patroness of the affair was Mrs. Edward Carrington Bates.

George T. Cummings of Montpelier, Vt., is visiting his brother, Rev. E. W. Cummings.

Harold Owens of Moore's Island has as his guest Parker Huntington of Concord, N. H.

The services at the First Christian church will be as usual on Sunday.

Thomas Seawards has returned to his home in Rochester, N. H., after a visit with relatives in town.

Mrs. Valia Mace is improving from her recent illness and is able to be out a little.

home at Kennard's Corner as the result of a shock.

While the inclement weather is casting a gloom over the community, the Grangers are not sitting idly by bemoaning loss of crops, instead there is activity, and of the hustling sort on every side. Dr. Durgin in his quiet way will have something excellent in the way of entertainment on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The drama, a boarding school play, by local talent—and we think Elliot can't be beat when it comes to dramatic powers of the local kind—will present, "Leave It To Polly." This will be given on Wednesday evening, and a soloist in connection with this. Thursday evening the Aeolian Male Quartet and a reader. With all this pleasure in store for us we can defy the weather man for a while longer, offering in the mean time a silent prayer that he will let up on us soon.

Miss Dorothy Buck, daughter of John Buck has entered the service of the Red Cross and is proving a valuable assistant in caring for the wounded Italians. That she speaks their language is a great help. We hope to give the public an idea of the tragic surroundings, as she has no doubt ample material, when it is possible for news to reach us. Great precautions are taken that nothing of the sufferings and cruelties of the war shall be given to the public.

VIOLENT FIGHTING IN ARGONNE

(Special to The Herald)
Paris, Aug. 7.—Ever-growing fierceness marks the new German offensive in the Argonne region. The French war office stated today that fighting of the most violent character is taking place in the Argonne. A German assault was launched against the French position at Hill 213 but was repulsed. The army of the Crown Prince which is attempting to isolate Verdun by cutting its line of communication on the west has been bombarding the French trenches with the utmost intensity using guns of all calibre.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Lavinia Burrell's 16th Anniversary Is Fittingly Observed.

A birthday party was tendered Miss Lavinia Burrell of Seavey Farm, Ogunquit Point road, by her friends on Thursday evening in honor of her 16th birthday. The evening was very pleasantly passed with games, vocal and instrumental music. A dainty collation was served consisting of pondilly cake, ice cream, fruit, and fruit punch. A beautiful birthday cake ornamented with lighted candles was cut and a slice distributed to each guest by the young hostess.

Miss Burrell received many useful and pretty gifts, among them a handsome gold watch. At a late hour the party broke up and upon departure for their homes the guests departed Miss Burrell an ideal hostess and wished her many happy returns of the day.

Among those present were guests from Haverhill, Greenland and this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGraw and sister have returned to their home at Oswego, N. Y., after spending two weeks at the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Smart of Manning Place.

ARE PLANNING BIG CARNIVAL

Monster Celebration to Be Held at Hampton Beach in September.

Plans for a monster carnival to be held at Hampton Beach during the week after Labor Day are now well under way. At the meeting of the Board of Trade this week, Joseph Dudley, a member of the firm of Dudley & White, proposed such an affair and outlined to the members present just what might be accomplished in a manner that would boom the beach and also assist the business men.

Exceedingly inclement weather has made this a poor year for the merchants and other business men. When the days have been fine larger crowds than ever before have flocked to this resort. The merchants say that only the weather has been responsible for the lack of the usual amount of business. They believe that a monster carnival of a week's duration would be instrumental in bringing a week of big business as well as booming the beach.

The event as planned Monday evening would surpass any event of its kind that has ever been held in this section. It was suggested that the necessary money might be raised by popular subscription, which would reach about $2500. This amount would assure fireworks displays, band concerts, aeroplane flights, motor boat races, auto races, and many sorts of amusements of the vaudeville variety.

When the carnival is definitely decided upon it is probable that the committee named to transact the amusements and will engage the services of some big amusement enterprise, which will stage all but the athletic events and the fireworks and concerts.

The many friends of Mrs. Annie H. Hewitt, who has been undergoing treatment at the Portsmouth Hospital will be pleased to learn that she has so far recovered as to be able to return to her home on Friday.

FREE AFTER SEPTEMBER 1ST

State Has $2400 to Spend for Antitoxin Each Year.

According to the law passed by the last session of the legislature antitoxin for the treatment of diphtheria will be free on September 1, under rules of the state board of health. The law enacted relative to the free serum is as follows:

Section 1. The state board of health is hereby authorized to purchase antitoxin for the treatment of diphtheria and to distribute the same free of charge under such rules and regulations as said board may prescribe, and a sum not exceeding twenty-four hundred dollars for each of the years ending August 31, 1916 and 1917, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses thereof, upon vouchers duly approved according to law.

Section 2. The antitoxin shall be kept at stations designated by the state board of health and shall be furnished physicians duly registered and licensed under the state law, upon application by prescription of regular form.

Section 3. A person selling or disposing of any antitoxin purchased or distributed under the provisions of this act for personal gain, shall be fined ten dollars for each offense.

Section 4. This act shall take effect September 1, 1915.

Approved April 6, 1915.

SMASH THROUGH LINES ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

Russian Army Seriously Threatened With Annihilation at Hands of Teuton Forces

London, Aug. 6.—The Germans have succeeded in trapping the Novo Georgievsk garrison, of rather Russia, has sacrificed it in order to cover the retreat of the Muscovite main army. The fortress, according to Petrograd, has been provisioned for a siege and left to its own devices. Whether the Germans will immediately start a close siege and bombardment is not known. Remembering the fate of Ige, Antwerp, Namur and other permanent fortifications it seems likely that notwithstanding a possible strengthening of the works along lines dictated by the former failures, it must fall when ever Germany wishes to pay the price.

Warsaw and Ivangorod now have been evacuated by the Russian army. Osowile, which has put up such a stiff defense for months and Novo Georgievsk, northwest of Warsaw, which is now the westernmost point of the Russian salient in Poland, is useless for offense or defense. As the London Times expert points out, the Warsaw retreat is less the direct outcome of engagements on the Blonje line and in the Novo Georgievsk region than the result of the strategic situation as a whole. In the region of Ostrolika and the mouth of the Skwa the enemy threatened to cut the Russian rear and deprive the army of the opportunity of re-grouping, while by their offensive in the Lomza district, which is beginning to overshadow even the Vistula front in strategic importance, the Germans are striving to effect a deep envelopment of the Muscovites on the Vistula river. Should this offensive be further developed it possibly will be directed against the district and Brest-Litovsk from the north and in that case Field Marshal von Mackensen might transfer his troops from the Cholm district to cooperate in this attempt. Another factor was the auxiliary operation on both banks of the Vopr against Lukow, intended to cut the Ivangorod-Lukow line. In the meantime the Russian armies are fighting their way backward toward Russia proper, inflicting blows on the invaders' schedule.

RETIRE IN GOOD ORDER

Petrograd, Aug. 6.—An official communication just issued here says: "In view of conditions and the general situation our troops west of Warsaw have received orders to fall back on the right bank of the Vistula."

"According to reports received, this order was carried out and the troops which were covering Warsaw retired at five o'clock this (Thursday) morning, without being attacked, toward the new front assigned to them."

"They blew up behind them all the bridges over the Vistula."

All the territory immediately west of Warsaw, containing large factories, Polish estates and peasant dwellings, now presents blackened and uninhabitable areas. Care had been taken that no suburban factories should fall into the hands of the Germans and be converted to their use. Chief among those destroyed was the million-dollar sugar factory belonging to a Polish lawyer, Eugene Karulik, with more than two thousand tons of sugar. The factories in the city itself, although abandoned, had not yet been destroyed when the refugees left the capital.

ITALIANS SHELL GORIZIA

Rome (via Paris), Aug. 6.—The following official statement from the general headquarters of the Italian army was issued last evening:

"In the valley of Gorizia we continued our offensive with the object of completing the occupation of Lant Pass, of which we conquered the most advanced trenches in the direction of Salsed, Pieve di Livinallunga and Avio in the fighting from the 17th to the 24th of July."

"Under a concentrated fire of the enemy our infantry, effectively supported by artillery succeeded in storming the very strong entrenchments defending the upper part of the Col di Lant."

"On the 24th the enemy, seeking to stop our progress on the center and left wing, delivered an attack in the direction of the Capucio Wood. Our troops bore the shock successfully and then, taking the offensive, vigorously stormed a considerable length of the entrenchments which our men call Trincerone, dominating the eastern border of the Capucio Wood and the approach to San Martino del Carso."

"In the evening the enemy made a long and determined attempt to advance, without, however, accomplishing anything."

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Portsmouth Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "aches" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, languor and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with aching pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof in Portsmouth testimony: Mrs. John M. Smart, 172 Gates St., Portsmouth, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in the small of my back, which at times changed to a dull, grinding ache. It I exerted myself, my suffering was more severe. I felt tired nearly all the time and had little energy. I tried various medicines without success until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy. Two boxes improved my condition in every way."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smart had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW COMMANDER AT STRAITS

Paris, Aug. 6.—An official report given out by the French War Office today reads as follows:

"At the Dardanelles, since the beginning of August, there has been no striking development to report, the activity being confined to intermittent artillery duels and much movement on the part of the aviators."

"The government has decided to replace General H. J. E. Gouraud, commander of the French expeditionary force at the Dardanelles, by General Sarail, who has been named commander-in-chief of the army of the Orient."

TURKS LESS AGGRESSIVE

London, Aug. 6.—The situation in the Dardanelles on the front held by the Australian troops is excellent, although there has been continuous heavy fighting, involving serious casualties on both sides, according to the British press representative on the Gallipoli peninsula.

"The Turks since their last repulse," the observer says, "have shown much less aggressiveness, seeming more content to sit in the trenches than to attempt an offensive movement. Bomb throwing and mining now are the chief methods of warfare, the troops being kept occupied constantly in building and retrenching trenches which crumble away rapidly every day owing to the soft, sandy soil."

"Heavy Turkish reinforcements are being constantly brought into advanced positions, showing that the Turks realize the importance of holding back any further attempt of the Allies to encroach on the peninsula."

BOMBARD TURK STATIONS

Paris, Aug. 6.—One armored cruiser, two cruisers, torpedo boats, destroyers and an aeroplane ship of the French fleet made a demonstration Aug. 4 off Sighadjik and Suda Nova, on the coast of Anatolia. On Aug. 3 Sighadjik was bombarded and the customs house and part of the fortifications destroyed. The next day the armored cruiser bombarded the fortifications of the Turkish quarter of Suda Nova and a fortified point west of that town, while the other vessels of the squadron shelled and destroyed the village of Spelin, supposed to be a depot for submarines of France's antagonists.

The foregoing information is contained in a statement given out yesterday by the French Ministry of Marine.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY IN ERIE (PA.) CLOUDBURST; BROKEN DAMS SWELL THE FLOOD

STATE STREET IN HEART OF ERIE, BUSINESS SECTION. WHERE THE FLOOD STARTED.

Erie, Pa., is gradually recovering from the cloudburst which swept the city entailing the loss of more than a score of lives and doing property damage in the millions. For many hours the city was in darkness, and the telephone service was useless. All trains were held up by the flood. Scores of persons were entrapped in their homes. In the accompanying illustration is shown State street, in the heart of the business district, where there was more than five feet of water. There also is shown the district near the reservoir, where the flood started. The flood started at Twenty-eighth street and came down through the Mill creek, a stream running through the eastern section of the city. The water rose four feet in five minutes. Houses were torn loose from their foundations and culverts were choked.

BRITAIN FEARS U. S. AUTOS AND URGES TRADE BARR

London, Aug. 6.—A strong campaign has been launched in the English newspapers against the increasing importation of American-made automobiles, which are rapidly flooding the market.

Complaint is made that while the British manufacturers cannot compete with the cheap cars made in the United States, the factories are made to suffer further by the necessity of producing war materials and munitions, giving up their trade, while ever their profits are regulated by the government.

Meanwhile the American manufacturers are sending many cars and absolutely absorbing the English market, which is likely to be completely in their hands by autumn. It is suggested that a heavy import tax be placed on automobiles. H. P. Vane, director of the Napier & Son Company, in a letter to the newspapers, urges an even more drastic measure, namely, complete prohibition of the importation of all pleasure cars, during the war.

"Every American car purchased in the United Kingdom," he writes, "means so much gold going from this country across the Atlantic, thus eventually affecting adversely the value of the British sovereign compared with the American dollar. Again, what is more important, the future of the British motor industry must be built up and developed in the face of most adverse conditions. It is certainly the duty of the British government to protect an industry which cannot, by reason of its loyalty, retain its trade. It is to be hoped that the government will act promptly."

PLATTSBURG CAMP READY

New York, Aug. 6.—Captain Gordon Johnson, U. S. A., in charge of applications for admission to the Plattsburg, N. Y., military training camp, left Governor's Island today for Plattsburg, where the headquarters of the camp will be established immediately. When the camp opens on Tuesday, approximately 1200 men drawn from the various lines of business are expected to be in attendance. They will adopt the army method of living for a month and will receive military instruction from a corps of army officers designated by Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the east. Among the pupils of the camp will be a number of New York politicians.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LANES

New Hampshire lanes are calling, calling, calling. "From heat and dust of sweltering cities flee! Come where our winding ways go rising, falling Across the pleasant lands beside the sea." I hear again their call and hearing, heeding. Just as I have for years and years gone by. New Hampshire lanes to you again I'm speeding. Sweet lanes of old New Hampshire, in July.

Once more I'll wander in thy ways entrancing; New vistas of delight at every turn; The sunlight, through the pines, athwart thee glancing On beauties ever new—rock, tree and fern. O Wildrose Lane, just now in beauty glowing; A-bush with petals all adown the way; O Fern Lane fair, thy friends, luxuriant, growing. Cloth in a dress of green, thy stone walls gray.

Love Lane, to thee my eager steps I'm wending. Where Juniper and pine give odorous shade. Convolvulus and bluebells, lilies bending. In welcome—thus sweet lane art thou arrayed. And, as I go, my soul with joy o'erwelling; I pass a turn, and lo! the blue sea-reach. Afar and near its gentle bosom swelling. To break in wreaths of foam upon the beach.

A rocky land; yet, human toll requiring. The fields with grass and wheat and oats abound; (The ripening crops the sickle now inviting) Each in its granite wall encompassed round.

While here and there huge boulders, man-defying; As though by giants of the past are strown; Or monster graves, with those of mankind vying. Glimpsed in small groups which lie apart, alone.

Thy winding ways for ever are disclosing. New beauties to the eye where'er I look. The hay in windrows; sleek, mild cows reposing. Beneath the willows which o'erhang the brook.

The white farm houses in their leafy bowers. Dot all the landscape, and white churches stand. All heavenward pointing with steeped towers. While gentle peace broods o'er the summer land.

And in the noonday sun the bees are humming; The air is vocal with the wild bird song. New Hampshire lanes, to thee I'm coming, coming; O wait for me, for I shall not be long. —Donald Bain in the Buffalo Courier.

APPROVE MANY VOLUNTEERS

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND HEADQUARTERS STILL HAS UNDER CONSIDERATION NUMBER OF NAMES

Two hundred and eighty-six approvals of the men enrolled for training at the Plattsburg, N. Y., camp have been received by the Massachusetts enrollment committee, which has headquarters in the Shawmut Bank building. More than three hundred have been forwarded to the department of the east, United States army, at Governor's Island, New York, but so far the official "O. K." is lacking for some of them. Other approvals may come through before the special train bearing the volunteers leaves on Monday evening.

When it is considered that the committee started out for only one hundred names the showing is pleasing to those who have pushed the plan to success. The total enrollment from New York city, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Baltimore is about 1200, but it is not known how many of these have been approved except in the case of the local names.

GOODRICH PRIDE

"One of the biggest assets of the B. F. Goodrich Co. is pride," says Mr. Goodrich, local branch manager of the big Akron, Ohio, manufacturer of Goodrich Safety Tread tires. "Pride in perfecting the product. Pride in achievement won, step by step, through frank and fair means only. Pride in the maintenance of a high standard of quality—in a reputation for reliability, dependability, and the square deal at all times."

"The B. F. Goodrich Co. has been making history in the rubber industry for more than 45 years. It has been conservatively in all its moves. It has been the pioneer in nearly all great improvements made in the working of rubber."

"And it has grown steadily until the largest rubber factory in the world today is the B. F. Goodrich Co. at Akron, Ohio."

"The operations of this factory require more than 75 acres of floor space, and employ more than 15,000 people. 'No other rubber factory in the world buys so much crude rubber. It pays one-sixth of all the taxes in the city of Akron, which city has 15 other rubber concerns, and more than 100,000 population. 'Some of its 'White Anchor' tire hoses, made 'way back in 1884 (30 years ago), is still doing good service. 'It manufactures 284 classes of rubber goods. Some of these classes subdivide into large businesses. It makes 100 kinds of rubber hose, 11 kinds of rubber tubing, 8 kinds of insulated and other wire, etc."

"Every day, on an average, The B. F. Goodrich Company factory manufactures 60 miles of insulated wire; 14 miles of rubber hose; 5 miles of rubber belting; 12,000 battery jars for electric cars, etc.; conveyor belts that measure as much as five feet wide and weigh more than 3574 pounds each; a hard rubber department that alone employs more than 500 men."

"All this in addition to its other departments and the 21 kinds of rubber tires it makes exclusive of the 'Goodrich Safety' tread auto tire."

"Of all these Goodrich products, that which best expresses the measure of our capacity, our experience and good faith is the Goodrich Safety-Tread tire. It does this through giving the greatest mileage and resilience in the field, at the lowest cost, per mile, to users. When you test these Goodrich Safety-Tread tires, and compare with others of considerably higher price, you will then understand our pride in Goodrich standards and ideals. A pride which results in Goodrich tires being made better each year than they have ever been, and improved with each month's output."

"The Goodrich Safety-Tread tire gives more mileage than our own (or any other) plain-tread tire, with only about 5 per cent more cost to us and about 5 per cent more price to you."

"Pride which results in this, concerns your pocketbook."

President Wilson will take a personal hand in Eastland disaster at Chicago, next week.

PURITY CONGRESS BRINGS UP VOTE

Men Have Turned to Women to Help in Purifying Politics.

At the International Purity Congress in San Francisco recently equal suffrage was recognized as a potent force for social betterment. The superintendent of the Deaconess Home in Chicago told the delegates that in Illinois it was "pathetic to note how eagerly the men are expecting the women to grapple with certain problems of civic betterment." She believes that the men who have cast their votes for woman suffrage have done so because "they want woman's influence in the purifying of politics, in the demandings of a higher standard of morals in our public officials and a greater consideration of the enactment of such laws as directly affect the welfare of mankind."

HELD AGAIN WITHOUT BAIL

Manslaughter Case Goes to the Superior Court.

John Downey, charged with manslaughter in the death of William Boucher, and who has been out on bail since Saturday, July 31, was arraigned again today before Judge E. L. Capitt in the municipal court. He was represented by Attorney Samuel W. Emery who entered a plea of not guilty. The court held Downey without bail for the October term of superior court.

Miss Laura Armistead, a colored cook who was present at the Cowles residence when the altercation took place was also held as a witness and was required to furnish bail in the sum of $500.

Attorney Emery at once made application for the second time to Chief Justice Robert G. Pike for bail for Downey, which he expects the court will grant on the same amount, $5,000, which was furnished after the previous hearing.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the Veteran Firemen were on the breaks of the hand tub Eureka, on Friday night.

That forty men were there and once again the old machine delivered the goods.

That the band was also there to add cheer to the occasion.

That the stream was somewhere near the 200 mark when it stopped.

That "Badger's Island" is one of the most delightful spots along the river for camp life.

That the 156th Company, C. A. C. at Fort Constitution has some fine riders. That many of them take to horse-back for amusement.

That the Salem and Lynn girl operators of the telephone company are to hold a joint outing at Salem Willows.

That one of the many sporting events on the occasion will be a baseball game between the girls of the two exchanges.

That the Portsmouth operators are yet to be seen on the diamond.

That they might get together and meet the Dover girls in the national game or other sports.

That they know the game pretty well but have never come out in the limelight.

That the Boston and Maine will make a fight against truck walkers in the local railroad yard.

That the Haverhill and Newburyport police are up against the same variety of sneak thieving as the police of this city have been for some time.

That repairs are being made on the lumber wharves of John H. Broughton.

That the big summer season planned for the surrounding beach resorts is far from expectations.

That the farmers are hoping to get their hay crop stored before the frost hits it.

That several of them have not as yet put the mowing machine on the field.

That a Maine detective says the agreement to throw back short lobsters into the sea by some of the fishermen is a joke.

That the men who made this agreement to protect the shell fish are hauling more shorts than the men who did not sign the agreement.

That the new band is certainly getting plenty of practice.

That this is good weather for umbrellas, ducks and mosquitoes.

That the Portsmouth party on the jitney trip to Dover and back on Friday night got their money's worth.

That the girls say they don't care as long as they didn't have to hike it from Newington.

That the "Little old Ford" came in handy on the occasion.

That the local drivers are getting on to the new traffic rules in good style.

That a man who recently stole a pig and ran two miles with the porker

A SATISFIED AUDIENCE

Sunset League Players Enjoy Excellent Program at the Portsmouth Theatre.

Another well satisfied audience which included the members of the Sunset League players, gave additional proof that the show at the Portsmouth Theatre this week is better than ever.

Dena Cooper, supported by her artistic company of clever players again scored a marked success in Portsmouth in her latest dramatic sketch "Harkart." The large audience was generous with their applause at Miss Cooper's work which still holds her as one of the old Portsmouth favorites of the drama.

The Bottomley Troupe by their wonderful feats on the bars, held the audience almost spellbound from their opening until the fine act was over. This troupe is presenting one of the best acrobatic acts playing vaudeville this season.

Melvin and Thatcher in their comedy sketch "The Baseball Fans", also scored heavily. Their act took well with the ball players and their work was clever.

The comments heard as the audience was leaving the popular theatre proved that the show is one of the best that the management has billed. It is very evenly balanced and each of the acts is a headliner. The picture program for last night, which with the vaudeville will be repeated this evening, is very fine.

E. S. Baker, clerk in the Industrial Department will be in charge.

Marines to Go From Philadelphia The U. S. S. Tennessee left New York at noon today for Philadelphia, where several hundred marines will be taken aboard before proceeding to Hight.
